ONE DOLLAR A YEAR IN ADVANCE

UNION COLLEGE ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

At a meeting of citizens Monday in the offices of Judge J. M. Robison, President Franklin made a statement regarding the campaign to raise funds for the endowment of Union College.

He aroused great enthusiasm by announcing that the Centenary had taken Union College into its plans to the extent of $100,000.00 but expects the citizens of Barbourville and vicinity to raise $25,000.00 to build the necessary buildings. This money is to show their goodwill and interest in the college work. It is not intended to be understood that this $25,000.00 is actually to be used for this purpose, as the payments are to be made over a period of five years, and the work will be commenced as soon as practicable but in actuality, the money is for this purpose and the citizens, when they have raised the money will be credited with the work of the additional buildings.

Local committees were empowered to call on others to assist in a whirlwind campaign and it is hoped to raise the money this week.

The raising of $25,000 will mean the permanency of Union College as a standardized college and in a few years, the endowment will unquestionably be doubled, more students will be attending and spend thousands of dollars in the city.

President Franklin pointed out that the college will be the means of bringing a fine type of young manhood and womanhood to Barbourville will offer excellent opportunities along educational lines to the boys and girls of Knox county and that young women of our city will have their pick of the best, socially and morally through the influx of ambitious young men.

Nothing else that could be brought to Barbourville at a cost of $25,000 will equal the dividends that the College will pay in hard cash and, in reality, the citizens are putting up $25,000 against $250,000.00.

Other enthusiastic speakers were Judge Dishman, who said the investment would prove more profitable than government bonds, lands, houses or lots. It is an investment in citizenship.

Rev. F. W. Harrop spoke of the college as the institution where his daughter had been trained to fine womanhood and said Harlan would gladly put up $100,000.00 could it have the opportunity to secure the college.

A. M. Decker appealed to those present to put the thing through like good live wire. Pass over those who think more of money and bonds than they do of the finer things of life.

W. W. Cole spoke of the importance of Knox County securing a standardized college of which there are only six in the State. Fifty cities, he said, would gladly pay such a bonus to secure it. He also asserted the town property as well as the farms would rise in value as the college grows. When our roads are finished and our streets built, with Union College occupying the position it should, there will be a great influx of new citizens, both to the town and country. Let's boost Union College.

Judge J. M. Robison spoke of the fine citizenship of Barbourville and what the college had done in turning out splendid men and women who have scattered over the face of the earth to do good work. If we do not do our duty in the matter of the College, other places will.

Judge Robison further stated that the State is prepared to pay three dollars for one and the Federal government four dollars for one in good road building and that these adjuncts of civilization are coming. When they do come, they will mean much to the community.

A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

County Treasurer, J. R. Jones has turned in a report to County Attorney, Jas. S. Golden showing a $5000 deposit for payment of interest and reduction of note bonds against the county. He also showed that the Fiscal Court had saved something like $6,000.00 out of last year's revenue with all debts paid. This is doubtless the result of the business methods of bookkeeping applied by the Fiscal Court and County Attorney coupled with good horse sense which is better than genius anytime. This is the first time that the county has lived within its means and the administration is to be congratulated in being able to come out with such an admirable record.

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. James Tuggle was hostess for the Tuesday Club on March the eleventh. Sixteen members answered roll call with favorite quotations. After a busy hour of discussion and important business, the meeting was taken in charge by Mrs. Walter Hudson, leader for the day.

Mrs. James Miller told of "The Tri-color in Alsace-Lorraine," and the official ceremonies of Metz. Mrs. Edward Faulkner described the days of celebration and attitude of the people in Alsace-Lorraine. After a general discussion the meeting closed with the playing of the French national anthem, "Marsellaise," tea and a delicious salad course were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. B. C. Lewis, March the 25th.

On Monday afternoon March 17th Misses Alma and Rhonda Archibald entertained a number of their little friends. The house was attractively decorated with a profusion of yellow jonquils. The little guests were kept busy with music, contests, and games of different kinds from 3 to 5 o'clock when delicious refreshments were served.

Made the Supreme Sacrifice

We regret to have to announce the death of Corporal J. Edwin Parker, son of Dr. J. W. Parker, of Grays, who paid the full price of loyalty to home and country while in the service in France. The sad news was received by his father on Friday, thru a communication from the War Office. Particulars of the death were not received. Friends will sympathize with the bereaved family whose only consolation will lie in the fact that their loved one gave his life for others, which is the greatest sacrifice a man can make.

COMMITTEE

The following is the Committee of the Community Service Conference who will act on the Reception Committee at the reception to be given to the soldiers and sailors at Union College Monday night, April 7th:

C. P. Kennedy, Chairman, Mrs. C. F. Heidrick, Mrs. A. W. Hopper, Mrs. R. W. Cole, Mrs. Maude C. Marcum.

BARBOURVILLE MAN MENTIONED FOR IMPORTANT OFFICE OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

There is considerable talk of running Dr. W. C. Black for the office of Railroad Commissioner on the Republican ticket and we believe the Republicans of the Mountains should get behind this movement and see that Dr. Black is made the nominee. We believe this first, because the big development work that is going on in Kentucky, is being done in the mountain regions and therefore a mountain man should be the one to represent the citizens of this section in its future railroad development work.

It can be truthfully be said for Dr. Black that he is a live wire and knows the territory interested in its own development. Dr. Black was minority leader of the State Legislature in 1904-1905 and was nominated for speaker of the house.

He has served with distinction on the Barbourville city council, has been chairman of the school board for five years and was one of the forces for progress that swept the old ramshackle school out of existence as unworthy of a progressive city; was at one time regimental surgeon to the Kentucky Guards, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. and is now a member of the U. S. Medical Reserve Corps and was subject to call had he been needed during the war. That his executive abilities are recognized is proved by the fact that he was elected as Grand Master of the Masonic Order of Kentucky. He is now engaged in coal and oil development.

The Advocate believes that the Republicans of Knox and the adjoining counties should get behind this movement and see to it that Dr. Black is nominated. We believe the voters will do the rest.

To Spend Easter Vacation in New York

A pleasant Easter vacation is being anticipated by Misses Pauline and Emelyn Sampson, attractive daughters of Appellate Judge F. D. Sampson and Mrs. Sampson of this city, and Barbourville, who are attending school at Glen Eden College, On-the-Hudson. They expect to go to New York the latter part of the month to remain until after Easter with their mother, who has been in that city spending the winter.

The Misses Sampson are members of the graduating class of 1919 at Glen Eden College, and Miss Pauline Sampson has the distinction of being president of her class. Although quite young this is their second graduation, having finished the course at Union College, Barbourville, and also having been in school in Louisville. They have been frequent visitors in Frankfort and have many friends here. State Journal.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Vernie Fee spent the week end with home folks at Jarvis Store.

Victory to the girls and boys when the new gym is built at U. C.

Prof. D. M. Mumflet has enrolled several new students for this spring term and is delighted to have them.

Miss Marjorie Brown spent Sat. and Sunday at the home of her sister on Main Street.

Misses Thelma Morehead, Pearl Parsons and Della Williams spent the week end at their homes.

Miss Mable Allway has left the dormitory and is now living in town with her mother and sister who have come here from Pineville.

Mrs. Hinkle has returned from Bloomfield, Ind. where she attended the funeral of her sister.

The Honny Class led by its teacher Prof. Bennett, invaded the surrounding grounds of the College Campus last week and gathered buds from trees of all descriptions, so as to become more familiar with the study of buds.

Miss Victoria Creech spent the week end at the home of Miss Mary Melton.

The Recital given by Miss Brady Saturday night was exceedingly good and was enjoyed by all present. It takes Miss Brady to plan the very best program to amuse the crowd.

The preachers from Union College were busy the last of last week. Rev. Gwyn preached at Kettle Island, Rev. Marcum at Williamsburg, and Dr. Hinkle at Pineville.

The French Class enjoyed a period of informal conversation in French last week with Lieut. Bennett, just recently returned from France. He told many French stories both in French and English, about his own experience while abroad.

Term examinations are going on, no wonder everyone on the Campus is sad and gloomy.

Misses Love Morris, Mary Melton, May Melton, Mollie Melton, spent the week end at their homes.

Harry Ecklar and James Arthur, old students of Union College, spent a few days with their many friends on the Campus this week. They have just received their discharge from the Navy.

"Lo and behold the Virgins Cometh" The Faculty and graduates of Union College will, as in other large college and universities, wear caps and gowns at Commencement time. Who said Union College would not soon be a standard College

The Freshman Academy Class rendered a very interesting program in the Literary Society last Thursday evening. This Class is one that has shown itself capable of accomplishing anything it tries to do and the school should be proud that it has such a class as a foundation for future good work.

The Spanish class was highly honored by the presence of Senor G. Brittan Lytle last Thursday morning, who made a very interesting talk concerning the Spanish Language. Mr. Lytle has taught several Spanish classes in this locality and will leave for Pineville Monday to take charge of a large class there.

The Junior Academy Class is soon to make the school sit up and take notice. They were entertained by their class Teacher Mrs. McDermid Minton at her home last Thursday evening. Chocolate was served and a pleasant time reported. They plan to help the Seniors and to make the task of preparing the plans of graduation easy, and different other things that will move the school spirit along.

One of the greatest events of the year that showed the true loyalty of Union College students, was the amount raised in one chapel hour for the U. C. building fund.

At the conference banquet, early in the Fall Dr. Franklin made the statement that he wished $1,000 to be raised by the student body alone. This sum seemed immense, but on Tuesday morning an unexpected sum was pledged, which showed the Unionites enthusiasm in wishing to better their college. The Senior Academy class of ten members pledged $500.00, each member having pledged $50.00.

The Freshman Academy Class gave $245.00, Normal gave $350.00, and even the Graded Department showed their colors. The Sophomore Academy Class raised over $375.00 with a considerable number of personal amounts to raise this sum. The two $100.00 pledges of the Sophomores were promised by Otis Burroughs and Oscar McBrayer, while the $50.00 pledges were given by Chesley Franklin, Edgar Burke and Henry Payne. Mr. Petty Franklin of the Senior College gave $100.00 and Mr. Archibald of the Freshman College Class gave $50.00. The Junior College Class then pledged $40.00. The total was $3,035 which was far above the amount expected. Now that Union has shown its spirit, we are looking to the town to help with just as much enthusiasm.

Serious Accident at Four Mile

Monte Brock and Harvey Jones, miners at Four Mile, were seriously burned on Thursday while getting ready to shoot. They had cut and lighted the fuse when powder in an open can blew up. The face of one of the men and the body of the other was badly burned.

Teach Children To Save

Start the kiddies right by making them want to save their money.

A personal savings account in a high-class banking institution like this, where children are given the proper attention and encouragement to handle their own finances is a good start in the right direction. One dollar opens an account.

AFTER THE DIXIE HIGHWAY WHAT?

Judging from the report of Judge D. Tuggle that we are to get a dollar on the Dixie Highway after the grading is done, what are we going to do?

The farmers, business men and the school should get together to map out future work, choosing first the route that will help the largest number of farmers and concentrate on that route.

The doctor who gives his medicine without proper thought would probably kill his patient; the school board that tried to run a school with an illiterate teacher in charge would get poor results; the farmer who did not know whether his seed was full of weeds or not would reap weeds; the business man who sold regardless of cost would join the noble army of bankrupts; the newspaper man who tells his readers about tin production in Timbuctoo and does not tell what is going on in his county, thus failing to fulfill the functions of a "news" paper, will be sold up by the Sheriff and the citizens who take no thought for their roads, whether they be mud holes or rock patches, will get what they deserve.

The road question needs a doctor of roads in the shape of a competent engineer; it needs the services of the school teacher to tell what they may mean to a county; it needs the interest of the business man and the farmer together to help put through the intelligent findings of the engineers and it needs that these findings be published so that they be of record and open to discussion that the best and most needed roads be built first instead of sending a road down to Gigg's gate where it will stop and benefit only Gigg's. Gigg's may be a very good man, but if his road would have benefitted several times his number, then it stands to reason that the greatest number should have it.

Further, we have patched and patched our roads, throwing away good money after bad, till we stand confronted with our road question of being absolutely the most unsatisfactory among the most intelligent peoples of the world.

Let's stop it and build real roads.
The farmer wants them, but he wants to know what he is going to get and then get what he bargained for.

Some of us pray for direction and then go the other way.

When a man gets married his troubles begin to smile. Now ladies, subscribe for the Advocate.

The farmer who has a first class garden for his family use is going a long way toward self support.

The man who goes to church on Sunday and acts like a Christian, all the week has got it sure enough.

If the price of the fragrant weed continues to soar, we shall advocate a league to burn it up. Pipe or cigarets for us please.

Mrs. Biddie, the American hen is a great producer and is more deserving of a monument to her industry than many bipeds. Treat her kindly and she will swell your bank account without a kick.

When the roads are made what they should be, the farmers will not have to hitch four mules to loads that would make a horse laugh. Talk and work for good roads. They are a sign of higher civilization.

During hard times the big advertisers get busy and get the loose change, while the non-advertiser holds the bag. Barbourville should advertise itself. Co-operation among the citizens is needed. Why not start a Chamber of Commerce or Business Men's Club or whatever name you like to call it. One is certainly needed.

A man may not be able to choose his relatives, the size of his nose, the length of his extremities and not always his wife, but he can choose his candidate and they are now coming into the field. As for us let the best man win.

It is said that man, when he wore a tail, (without feathers) used to roost in the trees, but he is much better off since he has become properly housed. Chickens will respond to good care and should not be left to roost in the trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Fly and families are due to visit us shortly. Some of us will be missing before the summer is up as a result. It is always good to be prepared to pass away, but it is a disgrace to get our ticket to leave through a measley fly. Swat the breeding places and stay with us.
And then to blame heaven because we did not clean up the breeding place of the fly is scarcely a square deal.

COMMUNITY CONFERENCE

Hon. H. V. McChesney, it is announced, will be one of the speakers at the Community Conference to be held at Barbourville, April 6th 7th. This Conference in connection with the demobilization and home coming of our boys, the consideration of industrial and social problems;
good roads, civic improvements, etc., ought to bring much good to our County and Community.

War is a magician in more ways than one. In 1914 America was a selfish, egotistic country busily engaged in getting money. It was "every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." Politician fought politician, business man fought business man and minister in some instances was arrayed against the interest of other ministers, each one endeavoring to increase his party work, or church even at the expense of the other fellow. The war waved its magic wand. And what happened? The boys from the camps can tell you. They saw elderly politicians selling postage stamps over a counter, middle-aged business men leading a bunch of khaki-clad boys singing "Good Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip," and dignified clergy-men industriously scrubbing floors. They were not wearing the uniform of Uncle Sam and the fact that they were beyond the draft age removed every doubt as to the voluntary nature of the service. Then what was the compelling force? Merely a desire to serve. These men, many of them holding responsible positions and with big opportunities before them, gave up everything and left homes and families to join organizations which had access to the camps and opportunities for serving.

Among other Kentuckians who made this sacrifice is Mr. McChesney.
Many of our people have known him for years, as Superintendent of Public Instruction, Secretary of State, and one time a candidate for nomination for governor.

But of all the titles he has borne he is proudest, it is said, of the one he now bears, Y. M. C. A. Secretary, as head of the Educational Department at Camp Zachary Taylor, where he has labored for many months for the welfare of the soldier wearing the Khaki himself, and the lowliest soldier boy in all the camp has the right to clap him on the shoulder and call him "pal." It will be a rare opportunity at this Community Conference April 6th and 7th to hear Mr. Mc-Chesney and other prominent speakers of State wide reputation, on problems in connection with the home coming of the soldier boys.

Vacant houses are very scarce in Barbourville and numbers of people are unable to get what they want in homes. This fact would seem to offer an excellent investment for those with capital to build houses.

BAD ROADS HELP EFFECT CAPTURE

Bad roads have no friends but they occasionally do good in the world.
Last Thursday a man who refuses to give his name, was journeying thru Flat Lick when he met a mud-hole and his rig became stuck therein. Since there was no handy areo-plane to pull him out of his difficulty he had to have near by assistance and Magistrate Sam Jackson, who is a good scout and used to pulling fellows out of holes as well as putting them in when they deserve it, helped the poor stranger unload.

Alack and alas for said stranger, because when the deed of loving kindness had progressed, the astute magistrate found that he was in the presence of a perambulating still of twenty four cases of the real stuff.

He arrested the perambulator and his load. The trial will come off this week in Magistrate Jackson's court and later Judge Tuggle will have a go at him.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

There are lucky families, unlucky families, get rich quick and go to the beggar class families. The family of Mr. and Mrs. Dink Miller of Stinking Creek is to be classed among the lucky families. They have had 9 children, from whom have sprung 47 grand children. 3 great grand children and 11 stepchildren, making a total of 71. Of these not one has died, all are normal and in good health and not one of them received a call to the army when the young men of the country were conscripted.
Can you beat it?

A MOTHER'S GRATITUDE

Many a Mother in Barbourville Will Appreciate the Following

Many a strong man and many a healthy woman has much for which to thank mother. The care taken during their childhood brought them past the danger point and made them healthy men and women. Thousands of children are bothered with incontinence of urine, and inability to retain it is oftentimes called a habit. It is not always the children's fault—in many cases the difficulty lies with the kidneys, and can be readily righted. A Barbourville mother tells how she went about it.

Mrs. F. W. Golden, Pine St., says:
"Two of my children had weak kidneys and were annoyed by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. They complained of pains through the back and felt dull and languid. We gave them different remedies but got no benefit until we hought Doan's Kidney Pills at Her-ndon's Drug store. They relieved the trouble right away and regulated the kidneys."

A photographic birds-eye view of a Lead and Zinc mining camp. Note the small acreage required to run a mill. A twenty-acre tract will run two mills of 250 tons daily capacity for ten to twenty years.

A view of the interior of a lead and zinc mine showing the process of getting out the ore.

The Mansfield District

The mineral wealth of the Missouri district is abundantly shown in the birdseye view at the top of this page. Mines and smelters paying prodigious profits are to be seen on every hand.

The reason lies in the fact that there is to be found the richest and purest ore deposit in the entire region.

In fact, the State of Missouri is the largest lead and zinc producing State, producing 32% of the output in the entire United States.

It is the theory of geologists that this point, Mansfield, on the highest ridge of the Ozarks, marks the spot of a prehistoric volcano which deposited this vast store of mineral wealth by an eruption.

At any rate, it is there and is being mined and smelted at tremendous profits.

It is an absolute fact that T. T. Beeler refused last Friday an offer of $50,000 cash for forty acres of their holdings immediately adjoining the first mill. This is the forty acres north of the spot where the new company is to be located. Immediately adjoining is the Red Bird lead and zinc mine of W. E. Caldwell (of Louisville). Very rich ore was found in this mine at a depth of only thirty-five feet.

Profits in Lead and Zinc

When you buy stock in a lead and zinc mine you are not taking chances or buying a "pig in a poke," but you see what you are getting. The property is proven by drill, and you absolutely know that the mineral is there in vast quantities before mining is commenced.

A striking example of the success of the mills is the Eagle Pitcher Co. This company made forty millions of dollars in the past five years.

Five years ago this district was an empty prairie—today there are several hundred mills in successful operation and one acre of this land has produced a million dollars in ore.

The first company was composed of T. M. Crutcher, President; N. C. Cureton, Secretary, and W. E. Newbold, Treasurer, with the following directors: T. M. Crutcher, Neil Wilson Funk, William Phillips, N. C. Cureton, M. N. Cralla, Charles A. Funk, T. T. Beeler, G. W. Scott, with Hon. E. J. McDermott as attorney.

The Capital Stock was placed at $100,000 and is owned almost entirely by Louisville men and those of nearby towns.

This stock paid 2% in January and 3% in February. A list of these stockholders has been printed and can be obtained on application to the company so that this statement may be readily verified either by mail or telephone.

The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company has just been organized with T. M. Crutcher, President; T. T. Beeler, Vice President; N. C. Cureton, Secretary; W. E. Newbold, Treasurer, and with the following Directors: J. C. Mahon, T. M. Crutcher, N. C. Cureton, T. T. Beeler and W. E. Newbold.

The Capital Stock is $500,000 with shares at $1.00 each, fully paid and non-assessable; $200,000 of this stock has already been taken up, but the rest will be offered immediately to those desiring a very profitable and safe investment.

There appears to be very little opposition to the street improvement work, which is a sign that the people of Barbourville intend to make their city one to be proud of.

The editor is in receipt of a letter from a friend at Mineral Wells, Texas, where he served as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and the news is that the oil and gas strike has been a tremendous asset to the city. Every encouragement should be given to the oil and gas development of this section. Before signing up leases, however, get yourself properly protected. A lawyer will charge very little for this insurance against future loss.

Dr. G. H. Albright reports that during the recent flu epidemic sixty-two deaths occurred in the section for which he is health officer and for which he had to sign the death certificates, for the reason that there was no medical man in attendance on the cases. During this time, we will be remembered, the doctors were rushed off their feet and the condition of the roads made the bad situation even more complicated through inability to travel fast. These lives were all valuable to the community and we surely are paying high for the privilege of travelling through mudholes. When are the citizens of Barbourville and the county generally going to decide that good roads are an essential and seek for means to get them? They will be cheap whatever their cost. When, also, is the salary of the Health Officer to be raised to more than $300.00 a year? It is too little for the kind of service required.

To The Business Men,
of Barbourville and Knox County:

Gentlemen:-

This is a facsimile of the letter head of the Mountain Advocate. It is designed to advertise the advantages of Barbourville and Knox County from an educational standpoint and also its splendid natural resources. This reading matter will be printed on every letter going out from the Advocate office and we also offer to print the same data on every letter head our customers bring us, free of extra charge. The fact that thousands of letters go out of Knox County bearing this advertising will be sure to interest outside capital in the development of our section of the State.

Please remember that this method of advertising our County is free of charge.

Yours very truly,

Fred Burman, Editor.

Lieut. Baker, who is doing fine work in this section for the Y. M. C. A. delivered a splendid talk on Civics before the Epworth League last Sunday. He stated that returning soldiers who had been accustomed to the solitary life of the camps would not be satisfied with the old conditions of civilization and predicted much improvement in consequence. Mrs. Holdrick also gave a fine talk as to what it is hoped may be accomplished in Barbourville civic improvement. The young people are to be encouraged to do all possible to help the good work along.

Miss Arva Brady, of Union College, put on a delightful entertainment Saturday night, through the medium of her pupils, Pauline Gregory, Evelyn Gregory, Evelyn Black, Lowell Hughes, Bernice Humfleet, Ernest Elliott, Thelma Tugler, and Emily Minton. Individually and collectively they showed the excellence of their training in the gentle art of expression and the audience showed its appreciation by the noise they made at the conclusion of each recital. Pauline Gregory was especially good and has quite a future before her if she sticks to the work.

Congressman J. M. Robison was seen packing heavy mail sacks up to his office Tuesday and out of curiosity the reporter for the Advocate went snooping around to see what he could discover. He knew it could not be the good roads we are going to get but it looked mysterious. Then the secret came out. Judge Robison has secured 16,000 sacks of vegetable and flower seed through his right as Congressman and also bought more than that quantity for distribution among the counties he represents. Quite a number of these will be fracked out from Washington. There are some good eats in the sacks.

NOTICE

ARTEMUS JOTTINGS

There is still some flu at Artemus.

The farmers are getting down to biz around here.

They say "let's bring prices down."

Joe Hubbard of Flat Lick, was here Monday.

Edward Hammons, son of Judge Hammons was discharged from the Navy this week and is back with his old pals in Artemus. He volunteered a year ago and was assigned to U. S. S. Martha Washington. He has made twelve trips across the great deep and can borrow a meal anywhere in the U. S. England, or France, but is glad to be home again.

Many friends of Judge T. G. Hammons are urging him to be a candidate for the Kentucky Legislature. We predict if he should decide to run he will trouble the water for the boys as he has always been a great friend to tax payers and the poor.

What has become of the graded road from Artemus to Barbourville that the old Fiske Court contracted?

The bridge across Cumberland River at this place is in a dangerous condition and should be repaired at once or condemned.

ARKLE, KY.

We have a steam shovel here double tracking the road from the tunnel to Corbin.

The Richland Coal Company's switch is full of boarding cars.

The people are all getting ready to farm and garden.

Herman Frye, from overseas, is home for a few days on his way to Camp Taylor.

John Champion was at Baileys Sunday attending the big revival at the Jackson School house.

Mrs. Lucy Hutchins is very sick at this writing.

Miss Mary King was visiting home folks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McDonald entertained quite a number of friends on Sunday.

The revival meeting that is being conducted by Rev. G. M. McDonald at the Jackson Schoolhouse is still going on with great success.

Rev. J. T. Stamper and daughter, Miss Mattie were visiting friends at Warren, Ky., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McNeil and little son Billie were visiting Mrs. McNeil's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Jackson on Sunday.

bin or some other town to do our spring shopping as the roads are so awful bad and the mud holes are so deep that it is dangerous to try to go to Barbourville.

Grandma Lawson, who has been ill for the past month, quietly passed away on March 18th. She was, before her marriage a Miss Linville, sister to Sy Linville, of Artemus, Ky. She leaves four sons, S. R. Lawson of this place being the oldest, four daughters and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Barbourville Baptist Institute

Prof. Creal is absent from his classes this week on a business trip to Cincinnati.

Miss Tribue is planning an entertainment at an early date for her patrons.

Prof. Oglio, who has been absent from the school and his classes for five weeks on account of having had flu, will begin work next week.

Prof. Walter Hurd, a former graduate of the Institute and a most efficient man, has been teaching Prof. Oglio's classes.

Although the flu has hurt us very much this year still we are climbing and having enrolled 190 this scholastic year, with every thing running so smoothly, we are looking forward to see the Institute bloom next.

At an early meeting of the Board of Trustees in February all teachers were reelected at an increase in salary. Prof. John Hughes, who taught several years in the Institute and who for the past year has been teaching at Williamsburg College, was elected for the Normal teacher next year. This will add a great factor to the school.

Barbourville Baptist Institute is boosting every department. The flu is over in our school and most of the students have returned. All students are working hard in order to make their grades. The Normal Department is exceptionally good under the efficient leadership of Prof. Powers. The large class of young men and young women who are preparing to go out and to teach next year are doing hard work, the effect of which will bring them the victory at the next examination. Mrs. Hughes has been almost compelled to turn pupils away from her classes because of the large number coming in after Christmas. All her children are happy, full of life, and energetic. They are aspiring to make their grades by the close of the term.

Wonderful How Calotabs, the Perfect Nauseates Calomel, Makes You Feel So Good the Next Morning

Doctors say that the old-style calomel was the best medicine in the world and the only thing that would straighten out a disordered liver, but it had some serious drawbacks. The salivating and the sickening after-effects made many people dread to take it. The new calomel called Calotabs, has all the liver benefits left in and the sting taken out. Now you can take calomel without the slightest objection. One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water, that's all. No taste, no danger, no griping, no nausea, no salts. Next morning your liver is clean, your system purified and you are feeling like a two-year-old, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please, no danger. Calotabs are so delightful that your druggist will refund the price if you are not delighted with them. Sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty five cents. All druggists now have Calotabs.—(adv.)

Sturdy Womanhood
is the demand of to-day

In the Health and Strength of the Wives and Mothers Rests the Future Integrity of the Nation.

We must preserve our womanhood. There is need, greater than ever for strong women. Apparently, the race is not as sturdy as formerly or our women are victims of an over-civilization and less able to resist disease.

Thousands suffer and thousands more are destined to suffer from that most insidious of diseases, catarrh. Ninety-seven per cent of the people have catarrh. It is not confined to the head, nose and throat as many suppose. Catarrhal inflammation may attack the stomach, bowels or any portion of the body where there are mucous linings. It is no respecter of persons or position. Everyone is liable to attack.

Mrs. Mary E. Pike, 507 Hornman St., Belleville, Ill., was one of its victims. She says: "I have weighed as little as 100 pounds. For years I suffered with my stomach, cramps and severe headaches. After reading Dr. Hartman's Health Book, I decided to try Peruna. The first bottle brought good results, but as I was bound to get well, I took twelve.

Fifteen years ago, I started with Peruna and I wouldn't be without it. My weight is now around 200 pounds and I am hale and hearty at the age of 43. I can do as much work as my daughter."

The use of Peruna for forty-five years in the American family has proved its worth. If you are sick, do not give up, try Peruna. Write The Peruna Company, Dept. B, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. It is free and sent everywhere in liquid and tablet form. Insist upon having Dr. Hartman's Famous Peruna Tonic. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

We wish to draw attention to the article by Mr. Mat S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, relative to protecting the blue martin, one of the best bird insect destroyers we possess.

Mrs. Ellen Chamberlain, of Lawton, Okla., has returned here and will probably make Barbourville her home. Why leave a good town? Mr. Chamberlain is working at Camp Taylor.

J. L. McKnight, of Chester, Laurel County, is visiting his brother, C. B. McKnight, who lives three miles down the river. Another visitor at the McKnight home is Dewey Huff, of Chester, who is attending school at Williamsburg.

W. R. Marsee, superintendent of the Carter Coal Company, at Warren, is here looking for a location. He will leave his present work April 1. He and H. H. Owens went to Louisville recently to look at a farm but he did not purchase same.

Mr. S. M. Perkins, of Jasper, Fla., writes that he is enjoying the Advocate very much. "It seems to us like a letter from all our good friends in Barbourville." That is the kind of appreciation we like at home and abroad. It gives pleasure to know that one gives pleasure.

For Exchange 160 acres of Colorado land, anti-tubercular climate, will grow corn, winter wheat, oats, beans, etc. Work may be obtained at nearby mines. Good markets at mines. Fine stock country. Will take improved land in exchange. Fred Burman, Advocate office.

We shall appreciate the kindness of the Secretaries of the various fraternal organizations will report proceedings of interest. By so doing, interest will be created and the laudable work of the brotherhoods will be stimulated.

The Mountain Advocate

Dan Deaton and W. P. Loftus, from ten miles down the river, were here Tuesday buying supplies. They say the roads are bad and that four mules are necessary to draw 1,500 pounds of supplies. The county must lift itself out of the mud by its own bootstraps.

Gordin and Joe Partin, from Swan Lake, were here Tuesday for hay and oats. They say they would like good roads in their section. They had difficulty in getting home with 24 bushels of oats a few weeks ago in spite of a four mule team. The farmers in Knox County could get along with half the pulling power if the roads were good.

For a Bad Cold,

Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has stood the test of time and can be depended upon.

160 acres of land for exchange situated in the anti-tubercular section of Colorado. This land is unimproved but will grow winter wheat, corn, etc. Near mining camps which offer excellent markets. Fred Burman, Advocate Office, Barbourville, Kentucky.

Wm. McNeill, of Swan Lake, one of our soldier boys with the 67th. Regt. U. S. Infantry and later with the Development Battalion, was here with his Dad Tuesday buying supplies. He entered Fort Thomas and was transferred to Camp Zachary Taylor, being discharged from there Dec. 18.

County Superintendent of Schools Memphis met the trustees of education, division 3, Fork Stinking Creek on the 15th and elected as chairman Noah Mills, secretary Gus Walker. These are live wires and will see that the children of that neighborhood have the best schooling that it is possible to give them.

Union College has bought the Judge S. B. Dishman property on College Street and Johnson Lane. The property includes the cottage now occupied by Bob Shupe. Judge Dishman set a very reasonable price on the property and also donated $1,000.00 to the building fund. That is good citizenship.

S. Detherage, of Swan Lake, was a caller at the Advocate office Tuesday and reports the singing school under Lewis Lawson as making fine progress. Rain is preventing the farmers from doing much plowing. Water was over the wagon hubs in places and the condition of the road on the north side of the river is bad.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mrs. C. H. Baker of New York daughter of Captain Wm. McDaniel, expressing her pleasure in getting the Advocate from "My Old Kentucky Home." Send the Advocate to your own loved ones. They will appreciate news from the old home town with its hallowed associations of days gone by.

Private John T. Hunter, formerly of Wellshurg, W. Va., arrived in Barbourville March 8th. on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hunter. Private Hunter was over seas for eight months and put in some eleven months in the service with the 317th Inf. 80th Division. He thinks so well of our city that he has about decided to stay here.

Parrott Branch, of Big Richland, Knox Co., and now occupied in a clerical capacity in the office of the Director of Purchase, Storage and Traffic, War Department, Washington, writes that he cannot get along without the Advocate which keeps him informed as to what is going on at home and in the surrounding neighborhood.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mrs. J. H. Moon, dated Nowcomb, Tenn. in reference to changing the address of the Advocate. Mrs. Moon says they are happily located at their new home and their many friends here will wish them every good fortune. Mr. Moon has business relations with Kitchen Miller & Co., who are in the lumber business.

The new refrigerator has arrived at the Cole & Hughes store and is being set up. The refrigerator cost $750.00 and is a model of its kind. Unfortunately, the glass plate, which covered the counter was broken and will have to be replaced. While Charlie was steering the contraption past the street car, he collided with one of the windows and that set him back $2.50. Life is just one blamed thing after another anyway.

T. H. Fanson, C. B. McKnight, Wm. Melton and W. J. Bays were here from down the river Tuesday and all lifted up their voices and spoke pronouncedly in favor of good roads. Since the State is to put up $3.00 and the Federal government $4.00 for each $1.00 the county puts up, we shall get them. With the bitter kicks that come from all over the county a Fiscal Court that is for good roads to a man, the citizenship of Barbourville lined up for them, we shall see a new order of things before long. However, don't let us go to sleep and think the roads will build themselves. They won't.

Bad Taste in Your Mouth

When you have a bad taste in your mouth you may know that your digestion is faulty. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will usually correct the disorder. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. You will find this to be one of the best medicines you have ever become acquainted with.

JOYFUL EATING
Unless your food is digested without the aftermath of painful acidity, the joy is taken out of both eating and living.

KEEPING CUT FLOWERS FRESH

Must Be Properly Taken Care of, and Here Are Some Suggestions of Moment.

The only drawback to cut flowers is that they wither so quickly, and in keeping them fresh some seem to have more luck than others.

For instance, in the matter of violets, it is possible to wear them several times without noticing the overpowering stale odor which proclaims them beyond redemption.

Of course many people find that they cannot wear cut flowers even for one afternoon, because in some cases the body heat seems to wilt them, but if this can be avoided it is quite possible to find a bunch almost as fresh the second day as on the first if they were properly guarded overnight.

Keep the box that they came in and when you take them off hold the stems under running water for a few minutes, taking care not to wet the violets themselves.

Then wrap them up in the oiled paper and put them back in the covered box outside the window if it is cool; if not, in the refrigerator, but in either case keep them wrapped.

This treatment seems to restore the flowers and hold in the delicious odor which so soon becomes rank if they are kept unwrapped in a close room.

Some people think a pinch of salt in the water will keep cut flowers fresh longer, and so it does in some cases. In others it seems to change the colors a little. With roses it is successful, but not so much so with violets. A piece of gum camphor is said to be an excellent preservative in the water, and others advocate a small lump of charcoal, but in any case the water should be changed daily and the flowers put in a cool place overnight.

"An Ox in the Ditch."

Ocean Grove, N. J., is a town that has gates, and the gates are closed every Sunday. Only pedestrians are allowed to pass therethrough. It came to pass last year that Madame Shumann-Henk, the prima donna, had an ingrowing toe nail. It pained her much, and she was allowed to pass through the gates on Sunday in a carriage. Much criticism was stirred up and many were indignant, but the Camp Meeting association in its report declares it was "an ox in the ditch."—New York Commercial.

Putting Off the Dark Moment.

Robert had been arriving home late from school. At nighttime his mother told him if he repeated the offense she would punish him. When he came home that evening it was five o'clock and supper was ready. Upon seeing his mother he thought he might coerce her into forgetting, and said, "Mamma, I am nearly starved—let's eat first and talk business later."

Venetian Gondolas.

It was not until the end of the seventeenth century that the Venetian gondola assumed its present simplicity and somberness of color. A vain attempt has been made to introduce it in other countries, but it has apparently resisted all efforts at acclimatization.

DADDY'S EVENING
FAIRY TALE
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

SECOND COUSINS.

"Now you know," said Porky Pig, "that we want to keep it very quiet. It's so much more select when it is quiet."

"What does select mean?" asked Pinky Pig.

"I don't wonder the child doesn't know," said Mrs. Pink Pig. "It is hardly a word used much in the pig pen."

"If we bring a new word into the pen, so much the better," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "Of course it isn't as nice as bringing in a new bite of food."

"It depends who is bringing in the new bite of food, or who gets it," said Miss Ham. "To be sure we will always be more willing to share a new word rather than an extra bite of food."

"You haven't told me what select means, Grandfather," said Pinky Pig. "That's so, you haven't told the child," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"I will tell you," squealed Porky. "The word select means select."

"Well of all the wonderful things," said Pinky Pig.

"Patience, young pig, I haven't finished," said Porky. "I began by giving the meaning of the word as truly and as really and as actually as I could." "You did that, all right," said Brother Bacon.

"No Rude Remarks, Young Pig."

"Pray continue," said Miss Ham. "In the second place the word select means choice, or especially nice. At a select party everyone is left out who isn't very superior."

"Well," said Miss Ham, "that word is rather silly, I consider. For, who is the pen, or under the sun, or the moon for that matter, is able to decide the select ones and the ones not select?"

"Sometimes," said Porky Pig, "that word can be overdone. People who are really only snobbish think they can call themselves select. Oh well, let them, I say. They miss a lot of fun by not meeting lots of nice people."

"Where did you get so many ideas?" asked Brother Bacon.

"From listening and paying attention," squealed Porky, proudly.

"Well, Grandfather, are you a snob? Or why are we having a select party?" asked Brother Bacon.

"Ah no, I am thankful to say that we aren't snobs," said Porky. "But it's just as well for us to be quiet and select. You see when one gives a party one doesn't want to have too many at it."

"Isn't that rather a new idea for a party?" asked Miss Ham.

"Yes," said Porky, "it is. Parties are usually supposed to be sociable with plenty of people and plenty of fun and plenty of food."

"Then why are you having a select party?" asked Brother Bacon.

"Because," said Porky Pig, "I want to keep it quiet, and I don't want to ask too many other pigs. If I did there wouldn't be enough food for us."

"That's why I want it to be select, so you see I am not a snob."

"Not a snob," said Sammy Sausage, "merely a pig."

"No rude remarks, young pig," said Grandfather Porky. "Tomorrow you know is my birthday. And I thought it would be nice to have a party. Of course parties are usually jollier when there are lots at them—but I was thinking of the food."

"It would be awful for me not to have enough to eat on my own birthday. So I decided I would merely have my own family at the birthday celebration and that I wouldn't ask anyone outside the family. That always keeps things quiet."

"I even decided I wouldn't ask the second cousins from the next pen. I had to think some time before I could make up my mind whether to have them or not. One must be careful not to grow too friendly with second cousins. They might think they were almost in the family and could use our handkerchiefs which we haven't got, or our food which we have got, as a rule."

"But the second cousins might bring presents of food," said the other pigs, and as soon as that was suggested, the second cousins were asked to the birthday party!

Your Stamp.

Most of the work we do leaves our hands with our stamp upon it. Careless people cannot write a letter without self-betrayal—a word is misspelled or omitted, punctuation is ignored, a sheet is blotted, an address is wrongly written. And in countless other things, in practically everything, there is the same unconscious revelation. Girl's Companion.

VAST PARK to be ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

Loftiest Mountains, the Most Rugged Valleys, the Biggest Trees in Keeping With Former President's Love of Great Outdoors.

THE GENERAL SHERMAN TREE, THE LARGEST AND OLDEST LIVING THING IN ALL THE WORLD

IF THEODORE ROOSEVELT could be consulted, there is little doubt that the memorial plan most acceptable to him would be the creation of a great national park in his honor. In all the world a more powerful expression of the great outdoors, in all its contrasts, would hardly be found than the 1,000 square miles of mountain and valley scenery in California chosen to commemorate the late ex-president's name. The big appeal to Roosevelt as to few men. With fitting symbolism the controlling note of the new park is bigness, breadth, exuberance, and force—the loftiest massing of mountains in the United States, the most rugged valleys, the most luxuriant forests, the biggest trees.

The plan has received spontaneous support. The suggestion itself was spontaneous—made in New York under circumstances well worth telling. Roosevelt was a member of the Boone-Crockett club and had been urged to be present at its annual dinner at the Metropolitan club in January. He said he doubted if he could, but that he would be there in spirit. In the interim he died. At the meeting Stephen Mather, director of the national park service, made a speech on the establishment of the Greater Sequoia park in California. Afterward, the dinner turned into a memorial meeting to Colonel Roosevelt. As the tributes were being paid an idea came to Capt. Frank Lyman, a member of the club.

"Why not name the new park the Roosevelt, instead of the Greater Sequoia?" he said, and there was instant approval.

Great Mountain Climax.

For its eastern boundary the Roosevelt National park will have 75 miles of the crest of the Sierra Nevada mountains. From its extreme north to Mount Whitney, near its southern boundary, the region is a magnificent mountain climax—a collection of peaks ranging from 13,000 feet to Mount Whitney's 14,501 feet of altitude—the highest in the United States proper. (Mount McKinley, in Alaska, is the loftiest North American peak.) This area is connected by ridges and gigantic mountain masses scarcely less in height. For ten or fifteen miles east of the crest, peaks, ranges, and circled ridges are massed in a tremendous glaciated and snow-sprinkled area known to mountain climbers as High Sierra. It is the most celebrated high mountain region in America. Its devotees have long compared it with the Swiss Alps.

West again from the zone of the High Sierra the range subsides slowly.

ly. This great area of lesser altitudes is crossed by innumerable ranges and divides, between which flow rushing rivers buried in deep forested canyons, which are among the noblest in the United States. Some of the heights exceed 11,000 feet. The precipices immediately inclosing the valleys range from 3,000 to 5,000 feet above the floor level. The zone will become, when trails are developed, the most wonderful playground for the traveler and the camper-out. In the far southwest corner lies the present Sequoia National park with its supreme forests.

Out of the high glaciated shoulders of the crest of the Sierra flow countless streams, outlets of their snowfields. These combine into three greater river systems, which find their origin within the park. The river of the south is the Kern. For 30 miles it lies in a precipice-bordered valley, with mountains from 12,000 to 14,000 feet in height rising upon either side.

Here Are Kings of Forest.

The Kernah river, with its four forks, drains the Giant forest of the present Sequoia park, its waters bordered by more than a million trunks of Sequoia Washingtoniana. In this forest grows the biggest and oldest living thing in the world, the General Sherman tree, the diameter of whose trunk is 36½ feet. The Sequoia trees have dark, purplish red trunks, thick and tall. They are the kings of the American forest.

The greatest river originating in the park is the Kings river, each of its two forks passing through a canyon, which, when it becomes known, is destined to a fame second only to that of the Yosemite valley. The south fork passes through the Kings river canyon—a valley similar to the Yosemite in breadth and general dimensions. It needs no prophet to foresee in this canyon the summer home of thousands of camper-outs as soon as it becomes accessible by development.

The middle fork of the Kings river passes through the Tehipite valley, which is far the superior of Yosemite in bigness, wildness, and exuberance, although it has little of Yosemite's exquisite quality of beauty. Its walls are quite as lofty and are turreted and varied with towering peaks. Tehipite Dome protects its western end very much as El Capitan guards the western end of Yosemite valley. It is an enormous granite finger 300 feet in height from the valley floor, which is higher than El Capitan. Mount Harrington towers still a thousand feet higher. The river is as tempestuous as the valley. For miles it is scarcely more than a succession of tremendous rushing waterfalls. It is the home of innumerable car-throat trout, the gamest game fish.

The entire region has long been recognized as the greatest place in America for the traveler by trail and the camper-out. Its loftiest snow-crowned heights are easily penetrable by trail, and its middle zones and giant valleys will especially become the resort of the campers. This part of the country receives no rain from the middle of June until the middle of October. Very few parties take tents into the wilderness. It is enough to load warm sleeping bags and plenty of clothing upon mule-back and, at night slipping into these, sleep around camp fires in the shelter of great pines.

It will be the policy of the national park service to preserve this character for the Roosevelt National park. Let it remain the resort of the real lovers of nature! Government activities, then, will largely be devoted to developing the trails so that travel afoot and on horseback shall be easy into the very heart of the highest wilderness. Motor roads will enter the park from the highways and the railroads of California's central valley, and at their terminals in the Giant forest and elsewhere parties will be outfitted for the enjoyment of the greater wilderness.

Mount Whitney, at the climax of the great range, is flanked on the south by Mount Langley, 14,042 feet, and on the north by Mount Tyndall, 14,025 feet, and Mount Williamson, 14,384 feet. One looks out from its summit upon a vast storey of snow, whitened peaks upon which Mount Brewer, 13,577 feet; Thunder mountain, 13,578 feet, and the Kaweah peaks, 13,728 feet, are merely higher elevations among hundreds of others.

From the northern end of the Roosevelt National park to the summit of Mount Whitney and close to the crest of the Sierra already passes the John Muir trail, California's memorial to her famous prophet of the out-of-doors. The beginning of this trail is the Yosemite valley. With the development of the Roosevelt National park many trails will lead up to the great heights and join it.

Danville.—The executive committee of Centre College held a very important meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Welsh. MADE ORNAMENT TO TOWN
Oregon Concrete Grain Elevator "Camouflaged" Into Really Artistic-Looking Building.

Lines as pleasing as those of an old-world castle have been incorporated into a modern arranged and equipped grain elevator of re-enforced concrete, recently erected at Ione, Ore., at a cost of approximately $40,000. Symmetry has been obtained by arranging two circular and two semicircular storage tanks either side of a central rectangular structure and by topping the whole with a pleasing cupola. A heavy black cornice contrasts sharply with the white finish of the walls. The ground dimensions are 62 by 33½ feet, and its height is 124 feet over all. It contains a total of 20 bins with a capacity of 100,000 bushels. A special feature is the arrangement of these bins so as to allow an unobstructed floor space of 12 by 33 feet on the same level as the ear doors. The construction is such that the weight of the overhanging bins is transferred to points of contact in the solid slab of concrete beneath the building.—Popular Science Magazine.

WASHINGTON AS MODEL CITY

Chicago Newspaper Points to National Capital as an Example Worthy of Being Followed.

It is strange that American cities have been so slow to appreciate the value of a plan as it is exemplified at the national capital, remarks the Chicago Tribune. The city of Washington was planned by the best landscape architect the founders of the republic could call to their aid. The beauty, spaciousness and facilities of the city with its great open circles and radiating streets, affording varied sites for residences and commanding locations for public and commercial buildings, impress every visitor and justify the pride of every citizen in the capital of his country. But Chicago's plan, even though it involves the reconstruction of its planless areas, is still greater, because it provides a water front that any city in the world could envy, and because it comprehends all parts of the city and starts the people of every section on further plans to improve and beautify their home surroundings.

Importance of City Planning.

As the best humilitarians hold that man builds upon the basis of character, so it is that cities in their physical planning, as it affects their surroundings, must provide for the finer things that tend to make the mind as well as the body rich. The city plan, in view of these conditions, becomes one of the most important and far-reaching influences of the times.

What is done now for the future must be done right!

Compared Ghent to Venice.

Ghent was approached in 1641 by John Evelyn, driving along the Brussels road in a coach and six with which Sir Henry de Vile, the English agent, had accommodated him. He had traveled to Ghent "to meet my Lord of Arundel, Earl Marshal of England," and he compares Ghent to Venice because "the Lys and the Scheldt meeting in this vast city, divide it into 26 islands, which are united by many bridges." The population of the British in the old Flemish city recalls the time, many centuries ago, when Ghent, under the van Artevelde, was the powerful ally of Edward III. Evelyn mentions having seen a palace of Plantagenet memories.

J. E. ARCHER WRITES

Coblens, Germany,
Feb. 5, 1919

Mr. V. C. McDonald,
Barbourville, Ky.
Dear Väder:-

This letter was typewritten by a German girl. Imagine what a job it was for her to translate, she knowing but little English. Just overlook the mistakes in spelling.

You will probably be interested to know what I am doing. I am operating the biggest thing in Coblens. A hotel and canteen for the Y. M. C. A. opened at this place on Dec. 15, 1918 and the following is some things we are doing.

First it is necessary to give you an idea of the condition in which we found things.

The building was used for a German Soldatenheim and due to the scarcity of labor and material was in a very bad condition. After taking over this building we immediately secured labor and material to place this building in good condition. Also labor to clean the building. This work was accomplished in two days and on December 18, 1918, we opened the Dry Canteen. We have a writing room that will accommodate 100 boys also a reading and rest room that will accommodate 400 to 500 men. This room is furnished with couches, easy chairs, tables and electroliners, which are very attractive and home like.

In connection with the Dry Canteen we have a chocolate room, beautifully furnished and decorated with blooming flowers and draperies. This room is a glass inclosure and opens out into our volly ball court. We serve from 2,000 to 3,000 boys each day in this room, with hot chocolate and other dainties.

Our Dry Canteen opens each morning at 9 A. M. and remains open until 9 P. M. We serve 2,500 to 3,000 boys daily with cigarettes, cigars, candies, cakes, soups, towels and various kinds of toilet articles. This canteen reminds one very much of Woolworth's 5 & 10 cent stores in the states. (We always have plenty of customers)

One section of the third floor of this building was used for a moving picture theatre. This was operated for several days. Then realizing the were looking for something to satisfy that American hunger, which every laugh-boy has, we decided to convert the movie hall into a dining room. This we decided to do on Jan. 1, 1919. We organized a force of 6 men, removed the opera chairs and placed chairs and tables suitable for dining room purposes instead. While this operation of clearing and placing the dining room was under way the Secretary was busy securing a chief, waiters, dishes, knives, forks, spoons and food. At 5:30 P. M. the same evening, Jan. 1, 1919, we served 287 dinners. Since that we have continued to improve daily on our services and today we are serving from 1,500 to 2,000 meals per day.

The following is a statement of meals served for the month of January, 1919:

Breakfast	5,778
Lunch	7,481
Dinner	11,650
C. & S.	10,577

Total 35,486

To serve this number of meals, all cooked on a small hotel range and using nothing but German help, would be considered by some to be a very good job.

In connection with this we have 21 bedrooms, containing 46 beds and one large hall containing 14 cots. We furnished 1,380 beds for the boys during the month of January. These were appreciated as much, if not more, than anything we have done for the boys, and there is never a night, these beds are vacant. When the beds and cots are all taken and the boys continued to come for a warm place to sleep, we tell them yes you can have a warm place to sleep, and give them blankets and put them on the floor in the canteen. Some nights we have from 40 to 50 men lying on the floor. The night porter keeps the home fires burning all night and the boys awake in their morning feeling like they had slept in mothers bed at home.

There are several other things of interest with the operation of the canteen and hotel. First the job is being put on by three secretaries. The two Miss Sweenys and myself. All other help is German.

If our plans are carried out we will serve more men during February, than we served the past month. The work I assure you is very pleasant, also very hard. Still I believe, it is appreciated by the majority of the boys. However we receive criticism every day and I consider this a sure sign that we are accomplishing something, as every knock is a boost, and the Y. has received several knocks, which will finally make the Y. M. C. A. the strongest institution in the world.

Väder, this is a great life if you don't weaken, and at times you are almost wicked instead of weak.

I am planing to come home early this spring and believe me, this will be the greatest pleasure of my life. Give my regards to all and believe me as your friend,

Yours very truly,
James E. Archer.

THE FLU

When your hack is broken and your eyes are blurred,
And your shin bones knock and your tongue is furred,
And your tonsils squeak and your hair gets dry,
And you're doggone shure that you're going to die,
But you're skeered you won't and 'fraid you will,

Just drag to bed and have your chill,
And pray the Lord to see you through
For you've got the Flu, boy, you've got the Flu.

When your toes curl up and your belt goes flat,
And you're twice as mean as a Thomas cat,
And life is long and a dismal curse,
And your food all tastes like a hard boiled henrie,

When your lattie aches and your hands a buzz
And nothing is as it ever was,
Here are my sad regrets to you,
You've got the Flu boy, you've got the Flu.

What is it like this Spanish Flu?
Ask me brother, for I've been through
It is by misery and of despair
It pulls your teeth and curls your hair,

It thins your blood and brays your bones,
And fills your craw with moans and groans,
And sometimes maybe you get well,
Some call it Flu—I call it —

AMERICAN MILITARY CASTE

There has been much said with reference to caste and militarism in our army and the copy of the general order of one of our generals appended herewith is a sample.

We did not object to our boys crossing the ocean three thousand miles through mines and submarines in order to fight Prussianism in Europe. But we do object to such in our own ranks, in our own Army and among our own soldiers of which the following is a fair specimen: OFFICERS ADVISED SOCIALLY—CANT MINGLE WITH ENLISTED MEN—BY COMMAND OF GEN. BUCK ORDER POSTED REGARDING ENTERTAINMENTS. The following order has been posted at Camp MacArthur:

Headquarters, Camp MacArthur, Waco, Tex., January 6, 1919, General Orders, No. 1.
1. The attention of officers of this command is called to the impropriety of attending social affairs at which enlisted men, or persons in the uniform of enlisted men are present. Hereafter any officer of this command who finds enlisted men present with proper authority, i. e., duly invited or permitted to pay their way in, at any social affair at which the officer is a guest, such officer will at once depart from such social affair, and if he finds persons in the uniform of enlisted men permitted to be present he will take the same action.

When an officer finds enlisted men present at any social affair without proper authority, he will take such steps as the occasion may warrant to cause them to leave, and will report any violation of regulations which may occur.

By command of Maj. Gen. Buck.
